To look at the differences between my website I used Firefox, Edge and Chrome. There was a decent amount of change between the browsers. for edge all of my items on that page were able to be seen, without me scrolling. For Firefox that page appeared closer and more zoomed in, I had to scroll more for it. For Chrome the page is slightly shifted left compared to the other 2 browsers.